How Your Support Helps!

Mary was a healthy young teenager in high school. She was doing well in school and dreamed of going to college and becoming a doctor. One day she had a seizure and over the course of time had many more. As a teen, she was devastated. Her medical condition negatively impacted her life and studies for a time. Mary and her family sought help. There was an organization that could provide that help. Mary's seizures became well-controlled. She has completed high school, college and medical school. Today she is a doctor in family practice dedicating her life to helping persons with a variety of medical conditions, including epilepsy.

Today, ESF provides a variety of scholarships for persons, like Mary, to attend a special, medical-friendly camp, college scholarships and scholarships for doctors, nurses and healthcare professionals to pursue the field of neurology. They need people from the community to reach out and help them reach their goals.

Please consider a sponsorship to help persons, like Mary, reach their goals.
